Local authors of "It's OK, I had a Stroke." High school sweethearts, Brian and Sheila Lloyd have been married since 1990 and have raised two sons, one of whom has special needs. Before a massive stroke in July 2014, Brian restored multi-million dollar cars and was passionate about playing guitar...Their journey of faith and ministry has led them from leading worship teams and composing music in Virginia to Southwest Texas and then back again. Brian currently pastors a church plant and shares boldly the lessons learned through a massive stroke and lessons in the desert.
